

Wipe the Slate Clean: Erasing Negativity for a Brighter Life

Negative thinking creeps into our mind and disrupts its working. Erasing negativity from your mind can be super beneficial for your mental well-being. If one is positive the effect on others may or may not be positive and the environment may not necessarily become positive. But when a person is negative the effect definitely rubs on others and the environment becomes negative. Each one of us is negative or positive at some point in our life. How can we control negativity? It all starts again with the mind. Basically, we need to train our mind to think positively. We can tune our minds and repeatedly think positively to break free of the negativity and its vicious circle. Letting go of negative people doesn't mean we hate them, it just means that we care about our own wellbeing. Every time we subtract negative from our life, we make room for more positive. The mind is neutral energy and because of this the way we think determines whether the results are positive and beneficial, or negative and harmful. It is the same energy acting in different ways. There are times when we want to think positively but our mind does not want to open to receive positive and we are angry. Anger is one emotion that can destroy everything one builds throughout one's life. If we are able to control our anger consciously we can move ahead in life. We can .open our minds and accept what life has to offer with open arms. One must remember that the more negative energy we create, the more negative energy we attract. Quite simply, no matter how positive of a person we are, negative people can affect our life, unless we take the right precautions. Life is full of highs and lows, but you don't have to go up and down with them. We develop from the negatives when we accept them and learn from them.

otally! Negativity in our life can super toxic and really drag us down. When we're surrounded by negativity, it can drain our energy and make it hard to see the bright side. It's like negativity can cloud our judgment and make us focus on the wrong things .Often, the mind does not judge or examine thoughts and opinions before accepting them. If what it hears, sees and reads is always negative, it accepts negativity as the standard mindset. When the tiger crosses your path, for example, you run. The rest of the world doesn't matter. You are focused entirely on the tiger, the fear it creates, and how you can get away from it. In other words, negative emotions narrow our mind and focus your thoughts. Doing simple things like talking about positive daily events, common friends, hobbies, happy news, make for light conversations with negative people. Negative emotions prevent our brain from seeing the other options and choices that surround us. President Obama said that "if you go out and make some good things happen, you will fill the world with hope, you will fill yourself with hope."Erasing negative thoughts and influences can be challenging, especially when we are surrounded by negative individuals or if we have established a base of negative habits. However, through awareness and perseverance we can turn the tide and begin to focus on living positively. By letting go of negativity, we can unlock positivity and create a more fulfilling life. This can help us build stronger relationships, achieve our goals, and find more joy.It's never too late to make alterations or transitions in your life. It is said that there is little difference in people, but that little difference makes a big difference. The little difference is attitude. The big difference is whether it is positive or negative. (B-15 Jyoti-Kalash Society, Jodhpur Tekra, Satellite, Ahmedabad - 380 015)

'If anyone stops me, I will call you on my number'

Open sale of liquor in Sami, delivery of every brand on Activa; Bootlegger said, installments with police are ongoing

Patan

The liquor prohibition law is being openly violated in Patan district. A shocking video has surfaced from the same city. In this video, a bootlegger named Mahesh is clearly seen delivering foreign liquor on an Activa.

Various brands of liquor in the Activani deck

In the video, Mahesh is seen giving information about liquor brands and prices to the customers. His Activani deck is filled with liquor of glass beer, tin beer brands. He tells the price of a hall as ₹1000 and the price of a quarter as ₹250.

'Get a call on my number' The most surprising thing is that when the customer asks about the difficulty in transporting liquor, Mahesh fearlessly says, 'Get a call on my number, the installments with the police are going on, they won't do anything.'

'We are investigating' PSI A.P. Jadeja said that we are investigating this matter, but if any bootlegger says that installments are going on with the police, we should not believe it. We will investigate this matter and take strict action. Serious questions on the functioning of the police

This incident raises serious questions on the functioning of the Patan district police. On one hand, the police talk about strict implementation of the liquor ban, on the other hand, bootleggers are openly selling liquor under their noses.

This video makes it clear that the sale of foreign liquor is going on unhindered in the entire Patan district. People are demanding immediate and strict action in this matter. There is a public demand to take appropriate action against the responsible officials and bootleggers.

A traditional liquor market in Mundra: Sale of bottles of country liquor and partying

A few days ago, a video of country liquor being sold in the western part of Kutch district also surfaced. The video was said to be from the Tunda-Kandgara area of Mundra taluka. In the video, a person was seen selling country liquor with packets in a bag.

Apart from this, some people were seen enjoying alcohol in the riverbed. Regarding this, the PSO of Mundra police station said that no complaint regarding the sale of alcohol in the Tunda area has been received or come to light so far.

Driver loses control of steering, rickshaw falls into open drain

Kim, Olpad

A rickshaw driver lost control of the steering wheel in Keem village of Surat district and the rickshaw fell straight into an open drain. The entire incident was captured on a nearby CCTV camera. It is clearly visible that the rickshaw overturned in three places in just three seconds. However, the driver was saved.

The driver lost control of the steering and the rickshaw fell into the drain. The incident took place in Keem village, opposite the town of Asia, under the railway overbridge. When the rickshaw driver was passing by, the rickshaw suddenly lost control of the steering and took a sharp turn and fell into the open drain. Seeing this incident, the people around immediately rushed to help.

The rickshaw driver suddenly lost control of the steering wheel, causing the rickshaw to take a sharp turn.

The rickshaw driver suddenly lost control of the steering wheel, causing the rickshaw to take a sharp turn.

The rickshaw was crushed three times in three seconds .Fortunately, the rickshaw driver was saved in this accident. The people present took great pains to pull the rickshaw out of the drain. The CCTV footage clearly shows that the rickshaw took a sudden turn and fell straight into the open drain.

People are suffering from chest-deep open drains.

There is a chest-deep open drain line on the Kim-Olpad State Highway from Kim intersection to five kilometers of Kim village. Drivers and pedestrians often drown in these drains during the night. Often, drunk people also fall into the drains.

Demand for immediate covering of open drains

Locals are waiting for a solution to this age-old problem. It has become necessary for the responsible authorities to immediately cover these open drains so that such accidents can be avoided in the future.

A month ago, a rickshaw fell into a ditch.

A month ago, an accident occurred when a rickshaw fell into a ditch near Sadhana Hospital on the service road in Kim village. The tire of the rickshaw got stuck and the vehicle hit the divider and overturned. People who gathered at the spot pulled the rickshaw driver out. Fortunately, there were no casualties. The administration is waiting until a major accident happens'. Locals say that many bikers have been victims of accidents on this road in the past. Despite repeated complaints from local residents, no action has been taken by the administration. Residents allege that the administration is waiting until a major accident happens.

The locals have demanded immediate filling of the potholes and repair of the road. The administration is showing negligence towards this problem. The residents said that if immediate action is not taken, there is a possibility of a major accident.

3 complaints in 6 days against Mashru gang that traps jewelers in honeytraps

Gang collecting extortion caught on CCTV, 29 gangs active in Surat revealed

Surat

Since the Mashru gang, which was exposed in Surat 6 days ago and extorted huge sums of money by trapping gem artists in honey traps, 3 police complaints have been registered so far. After trapping the victim in the honey trap, the gang members who went to collect the ransom from him have been captured on CCTV. The preliminary investigation of the police has revealed that 29 gangs are active in Surat, which are extorting huge sums of money by trapping gem artists in honey traps. It has been revealed that the gang members are targeting gem artists on social media and under the pretext of getting a lift.

3 complaints against 'Mushroom Gang' in 6 days

Honeytrap No. 1 On July 19, a 44-year-old man working in a diamond factory in Katargam area also fell victim to a honeytrap. A girl named Asmita Babu Bhardwa, who worked in the same company, lured the man by sweet talking on the phone. On July 16, 2025, Asmita called the man to meet her near Katargam Limbaya Phalia and took him to a flat in Swastik Flat Apartment. Two other women were also present there. Asmita and the man were in a room in the flat when three men entered the room and introduced themselves as police.

They also showed their ID cards and told their names as Sumit Mashru, Alpesh Patel and Raju. The duplicate police handcuffed the man and Asmita and threatened to take them to the police station and call the media and also took their photos. Later, Sumit demanded a ransom of 20 lakhs for not filing a rape case. When the young man said he could arrange 1.5 lakhs, Sumit asked to arrange 5 lakhs.

Honeytrap No. 2 On July 21, a jeweler living in Katargam fell victim to this honeytrap. The accused had lured him into their trap on social media. After trapping him in the honeytrap, they tried to extort money from him by making serious allegations like rape. After that, the jeweler filed a complaint at the Katargam police station that he had been a victim of fraud, based on which the police have taken further action.

Honeytrap No. 3 A complaint was filed at Laskana police station on July 22, 2025, regarding an incident that took place on May 15, 2025. When the 51-year-old victim, a jeweler, was riding a bike, a woman named Dharmishtha Ruparakholiya from Kamrej side asked for a lift. On the pretext of giving a lift, she sat behind the bike and then informed her gang members. The woman then asked to meet the jeweler and go for a walk. When they went to Galteshwar, gang members Amit Mashru, Sumit Mashru, Alpesh Patel and an unknown person were already present there.

When the jeweler and the woman were hugging, the gang members reached there and beat them up, handcuffed them and made them sit in their car. They demanded a ransom of Rs 10 lakhs, threatening to implicate him in a drug and rape case. Ratnakalakar gave Alpesh Patel Rs 50,000 from an ATM and the remaining Rs 40,000 was given to the accused by his relative, whose CCTV footage has also surfaced. He also gave Rs 1.5 lakh from a friend and Rs 1 lakh from another person.

Gang's escort who brought the complainant along captured

Daughter said, I am thinking of committing suicide

What happens if I make a mistake once and have to listen to it every day?

Surat

On the day of Uttarkriya of 19-year-old Patidar teacher Nenu Vavadia in Katargam area of Surat, 1100 daughters were given food and encouraged about self-defense under the title of Dialogue with Power. During this, what happens in the mind of daughters when they make a mistake once and have to listen to it every day? When asked what thoughts come to mind, one daughter said that she feels like making herself happy... After this dialogue, tears came to the eyes of all the people present. An appeal was made from the public platform to the daughters and their parents to have a dialogue. Along with this, the Police Commissioner also challenged the parents and daughters to have a dialogue. Nenu Vavadia committed suicide in Katargam.

19-year-old Nenu Vavadia, a resident of Vidhi Palace in Nanived, Katargam, committed suicide due to torture by her minor son and his father. After a complaint was registered in this regard, the minor son and father have been arrested. Currently, a hearing is underway in the court against the police's application to treat the accused minor as an adult and try the case, in which both the parties are arguing face to face.

Nenu Vavadia's posthumous ceremony to be held with Shakti

The society is demanding strict action to prevent such incidents from happening to any other girls like the one in which Patidar daughter Nenu Vavadia committed suicide. Along with this, today (July 24), the posthumous ceremony of the deceased Nenu Vavadia was held by the family at the farm of the Patidar community at Amba Talawadi in Katargam area, in which a dialogue with Shakti was also organized and daughters were encouraged for self-defense. Along with this, food was also served to 1100 daughters.

Police Commissioner interacted with daughters in the program.

Vijay Mangukia (Patidar leader) said that the recent sad incident in Katargam area, where Nenu Vavadia committed suicide due to mischief, has shaken the entire society. The entire Surat, Gujarat and the country are in mourning. Just as the Vavadia family has made an emotional and conscious effort to pay true tribute to 1100 Gorani (daughters) after the death of their daughter at the farm of the entire Patidar community through a program of interaction with Shakti with food and understanding of self-defense.

Police Commissioner Anupam Singh Gehlot was also present in this program and interacted with the daughters. 'How does it feel when you make a mistake once and have to listen to it every day?'

Motivational speaker Manish Vaghiasia also had a conversation with the daughters and the parents present. The daughters were asked whether they talk to their family about mobile phones and the incidents that happen to them. The daughters were asked about the inconveniences they face or even if their parents do not listen at home and what they

on CCTV

A gang's escort who came to collect ransom by trapping a jeweler in a honeytrap has been captured on CCTV. In which the complainant comes to his friend's office to take money. At this time, the accused also lives with the complainant. It has come to light that the complainant borrowed 40 thousand rupees from his friend and gave it to the accused. This entire incident was captured on CCTV.

Revealing that 29 honeytrap gangs are active in Surat, DCP Rajdeepsinh Nakum said in this whole matter, "In the last few days, we have filed three complaints against the Mashru gang in Surat. Our investigation has revealed that as many as 29 honeytrap gangs are active. People from all these gangs are also on our radar and strict action will be taken against them." He added that people working as jewelers in good diamond companies are befriended by women through social media or when jewelers pass by on the road, they trap such women on the pretext of giving them a lift.

When jewelers have physical relations or try to have sex, this gang reaches there and then starts blackmailing them by making videos. Most of the time, these people identify themselves as media persons or journalists and in some cases they also reach there with police identity cards and handcuffs. The most shocking thing about using the codeword "paper has arrived" was that when a honeytrap was successfully set up by a woman, the male members of the gang would use the codeword "paper has arrived" to help maintain secrecy in their criminal activities.

do in the end, in which one daughter was asked how does it feel when they make a mistake once and have to listen to it every day? Then the daughters said that it feels very bad, they think of doing something, that is, they think of self-pity.

Hearing the daughters' answers, tears came to the eyes of everyone present.

The parents also had to worry about these answers of the daughters, such a dialogue was held. Parents have to have such a mentality that they will take care of their daughters and support them. The daughters were also appealed to have a complete conversation with their parents. Along with this, the parents were also asked to support their daughters. The answers given by the daughters during this dialogue brought tears to the eyes of everyone present.

'Daughters should talk to their parents and teachers about the discomforts'

Here, Police Commissioner Anupam Singh Gehlot said that daughters should first talk to their parents and teachers about the discomforts they are experiencing. He told the daughters to use mobile phones only when necessary and to stay away from social media. Along with this, he also appealed to the parents to talk to their daughters as friends. He encouraged the daughters to move forward only in the field in which they are interested. Along with this, he also appealed to them to learn self-defense lessons.

Main objectives of the program

Self-defense steps that increase confidence in daughters

Guidance on how to avoid elements with distorted mindsets .
